

Dear Writer,

Thank you for your interest in becoming an Arvon Tutor. We work with hundreds of tutors each year, many of whom are new to Arvon. Some are recommended to us by tutors, agents or publishers; some we find through reading their work, or through literary events; some we engage following a direct expression of interest. Arvon's Programming Team meets on a regular basis to discuss ideas.

What are we looking for? You will need to have a published body of work. You will also need teaching, tutoring or mentoring experience. Crucially, we're looking for tutors who are aligned with Arvon's values, who are passionate about sharing their expertise in an inclusive and inspiring environment.

Please email a one-page document including:

- Name, email address, phone number, website or social media links
- A few lines on why you'd like to tutor for Arvon
- Genre you would like to tutor
- Preference, if you have one, for tutoring online or in-person
- Preference, if you have one, for tutoring on our Schools or Public Programme
- Your list of publications, including date, genre and publisher
- Your teaching experience
- Any courses you've attended at Arvon and the tutors' names

Please also submit an online Equal Opportunities form here. This is optional but your co-operation would be greatly appreciated.

Please submit this by email to tutoreoi@arvon.org. Due to the volume of enquiries received, we cannot respond to everyone, but should a suitable opportunity arise, we will be in touch.

Thank you again for your interest in Arvon.

With best wishes,

Mary Morris
